Third Ward Councilman Harold Asty will be opposed for re-nomination by Wilbur Hamilton. Asty is seeking his second term.

The complete slate includes: Mayor, Strader.

Councilmen-at-large, Lawrence Kaerther, Fred Koenreich (incumbent) and Quark A. White.

Ward councilmen—First, Fred Blum, seeking his second term; Second, LeRoy Green; Third, Asty and Hamilton; Fourth, Robert D. Tubbs.

Pastors Oppose Military Training

COLUMBUS, Jan. 30.—The Ohio Pastors' convention today voted opposition to any form of compulsory military training, holding it was "an obsolete method of national defense in an atomic age."

The resolution added:

"Universal military training is an unnecessary tax burden, a denied good faith in the efforts of the United Nations in the direction of world disarmament and a betrayal of American democratic traditions."

The pastors also called for a ban on selling liquor in eating places and commended the attorney general for his current investigation of the state liquor department.

Rep. Brown Says Congress Will Cut Truman Budget

CANTON, Jan. 30.—Rep. Clarence J. Brown (R-O.) told a McKinley day banquet last night "I am confident the president's budget request will be greatly reduced by congress."

Referring to President Truman's request for a 1947 budget of $37,500,000,000, he said he believed the figures could be cut by five to seven billions.

Answering questions, the Blanche congressman said he opposed compulsory arbitration of labor disputes, but favored requiring unions to hold regular and "honest" elections; prohibiting aliens, ex-convicts and communists from holding union office; requiring regular financial statements to members; and requiring a majority membership vote before strikes.

RAIN, WIND STORMS LASH OHIO CITIES

Dayton, Springfield Hit Hard; Sleet Disrupts Toledo Activities

A crazy-quilt of storms that spread across part of Ohio left at least one man dead and trail of damage to residents, business places and factories today.

The state highway department reported that temperatures ranged from 60 degrees to below freezing throughout the state.

With snow and cold forecast for tonight and tomorrow, Salem residents today trudged through a steady downpour of rain. The mercury showed a reading of 52 degrees at noon, although the temperature dropped to 34 degrees last night.

Rainfall measured slightly more than a half-inch.

Southern and central Ohio reported heavy wind and rain storms while in the northwestern part of the state roads were slushy and treacherous and schools were ordered closed because of the ice.

Winds Lash Dayton, Springfield

At Dayton, the winter's worst rainstorm, lashed by a wind that reached 50 miles an hour, toppled a 100-ft. chimney at the Corrugated Fiber Box Co., and killed Thomas McGuigan, 76-year-old watchman, as he shoveled coal in a boiler room.

Dayton recorded nearly two inches of rain up to 9 a. m. today, and hundreds of motorists were reported late for work, slowed by the driving rain.

The wind and rain smashed windows at Springfield, blew off the roof of a house and idled the International Harvester Co. plant as power and telephone lines fell before the blow.

The picture was entirely different at Toledo. There all schools including the University of Toledo, were closed for the day in the wake of a sleet storm that made driving and walking hazardous.

Some sections of Toledo were without power as the continuing freezing rain snapped power lines, and nearby Maumee was without current since 3 a. m.

A 40-mile wind and thunderstorm hit Cincinnati, unroofing 30 houses and uprooting trees, and two pedestrians were reported injured by autos.

Columbus, too, suffered minor damage from a 24-mile blow and rain, which climaxed yesterday's unseasonable weather. Thermometers climbed to 64 in Ohio's capital yesterday, the warmest Jan. 29 since 1914. Cincinnati reported a high of 68.

Jaycees Are Given Challenge To Aid Nation's Progress

Visitors from throughout northwestern Ohio and from as far west as Toledo attended the second annual Valley dinner of the Junior Chamber of Commerce at the Saxton hall Wednesday night, with the Salem Jaycees acting as hosts.

Earl Belkoff of Cleveland, national Jaycee vice president, spoke on "Where Do We Go From Here?" and called on Jaycees throughout the nation to formulate plans and carry out the ideals of the Jaycee organization in exerting all possible effort in making a lasting peace and a unified nation.

He said that older groups are looking more and more to the young men of the country for new ideas and reactions and urged them to meet the challenge.

Other visitors

Among the guests at the dinner were Chick Hazlett of Akron, past president of the Ohio Junior Chamber; George Brittain of Akron, present president; Jim Riggs of East Liverpool and Merle Thomas of Massillon, state vice presidents; and Bob Johns of Columbus, state executive secretary.

All made short talks.

The Valley dinners, started last year by the Warren Junior C. of C. were designed to promote greater fellowship among the organizations of this district.

The committee in charge of the dinner was composed of Alroy Bloomberg, president of the Salem organization, Henry Schuster, Dale Wilson and James S. Jackson.

Wilson acted as toastmaster.

Consumers May Get 22 More Pounds of Sugar

WASHINGTON, Jan. 30.—The United States has asked for sufficient sugar from this year's world supply to allow an average of 95.1 pounds per person. Consumption last year averaged about 73 pounds.

This quantity would be divided among individual consumers and industrial users. Last year individuals got ration allowances of 25 pounds. The rest went to industrial users, such as candy makers, soft drink bottlers and bakers.

The American request has been laid before the International Food Emergency council, an inter-government agency.

SOLONS TRADE VERBAL BLOWS

Reps. Knutson, Engel In Near Battle Over Income Tax Cut

(By Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 30.—Differences over taxes flared into an angry exchange of bitter words and near blows in the house cafeteria today between Reps. Knutson (R-Minn.) and Engel (R-Mich.).

At one point, Engel grabbed Knutson's arm but colleagues said no blows were struck, although the verbal punches flew thick and fast.

Knutson is the main house champion of a 20 percent cut in individual income taxes.

On the house floor yesterday, Engel declared this would help the poor very little, while giving large benefits to persons with high incomes. He said that if the G. O. P.-dominated congress made such a cut it might "spell defeat" for the Republican party in 1948.

When the two met in the house cafeteria for breakfast this morning, witnesses said, Knutson told Engel he was "following the CIO line" in opposing the cut.

Discussion Becomes Heated

Engel told newsmen later, laughing, that "after Harold made that remark, he started to run, and I wouldn't let him."

Engel said he took Knutson by Charles Gearin, Wellsville, charged with burglary and larceny at the Standard garage in Wellsville.

DISAGREE ON ATOM INFORMATION FOR SOLONS

SEN. ARTHUR H. VANDENBERG, right, of Michigan and Sen. Brien McMahon of Connecticut argue over the amount of atomic information that should be made available to the joint congressional committee set up to advise the Atomic Energy commission. Committee Can Call Former Governor, Director In Probe Of Liquor Permits

(By Associated Press)

COLUMBUS, Jan. 30.—Senate probers ordered to make a full dress investigation of the Liquor department have authority to summon the former governor and his liquor director, now an Ohio Supreme court judge, the inquiry chairman asserted today.

"We haven't decided anything yet, but may get to it later," said Sen. Roscoe R. Walcott (R-Columbus), head of the five-member investigating committee which flourished from "public criticism of the department's operations."

May Start Next Week

Walcott said he would begin his investigation as soon as the committee would swing into action, possibly next week.

The surprise senate order voted 26 to 2 late yesterday, followed reports from Atty. Gen. Hugh S. Jenkins that he had struck pay dirt in a continuing look behind the flurry of liquor permits issued during final days of Democratic Gov. Frank J. Lausche's administration.

Republican Gov. Thomas J. Herbert said Jenkins' inquiry involved only the last few weeks of the governor's term. He promised full cooperation with the senate's unlimited investigation.

The senate authorized its committee to go back "not only for the last 30 days, but for the last two years or more," said Sen. Frank E. Whittemore (R-Akron), sponsor of the resolution and leader of the top-heavy senate Republican majority.

Calling attention to public criticism of the department's method of operating and issuing permits, the senate resolution read:

"There has been frequent reference to an alleged system of collections and charges of influence in state purchases and the awarding of permits."

"It is desirable and essential to purge the state of the odium that attaches to these serious charges and this can only be accomplished by determining the truth or the falsity of the rumors, allegations and charges through a fair and thorough legislative investigation."

Others On Committee

Besides Walcott, the committee is composed of Sens. Raymond E. Hildebrand of Toledo, Kyle F. Rooks of Cincinnati, Carl D. Sheppard of Akron, a Republican, and Margaret A. Mahoney of Cleveland, a Democrat.

They were granted "full power" to subpoena witnesses and records, administer oaths and punish for contempt, and to investigate "any and all things that pertain to the liquor department."

Funds appropriated for legislative committees were designated for the sweeping investigation, the first by senators since the "hot mix" and "truckless trucking contract" inquiry of the late Gov. Martin L. Davey's Democratic administration eight years ago.

Lausche in a recent letter to Herbert, who succeeded him Jan. 13, asked an investigation of liquor permits issued after Jan. 10.

"When Robert Sohngen resigned as director of the Department of Liquor Control, effective as of midnight Jan. 8, it was my understanding that no further permits were to be issued after his departure," Lausche wrote.

TOBEY CLAIMS EVIDENCE UP TO LANDLORD

Truman Checks Erroneous Report of Ten Percent Rent Increases

(By Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 30.—Senator Tobey (R-NH) today opened a senate inquiry into rents with an assertion that it "rests squarely upon the landlord" to prove any need for higher rent ceilings.

Tobey is chairman of the senate banking committee making investigation. There was no immediate explanation of yesterday's mixup in which an OPA order proposing to boost ceiling 10 per cent was squashed by the White House before it could be issued.

The committee originally was scheduled to hear government witnesses today but Tobey said none would be present.

"We believe the average American wants to play fairly," Tobey said in a statement.

Says People Must Be Shown

"If the landlord is being discriminated against, if he is not getting a fair return on his investment, the American people will want to do something about it, but the American people want to be shown."

"The burden of proving that rent control should be abolished or revised is placed squarely upon the landlord."

Opposition to any flat increase in ceilings was voiced by the first witness, Edmund B. Butler, chairman of the New York City Housing Authority, who appeared in behalf of Mayor William O'Dwyer of New York.

"If controls are removed now the increases in rents and eviction of tenants would result in a chaotic situation which would impose the gravest hardship on families, particularly those in the lowest income group," Butler testified.

Mixup Is Mystery

The snarl over yesterday's proposed rent increase order was described by one high official as simply a government mixup. He said Mr. Truman nipped the order as soon as the White House heard about it.

Reporters seeking amplification at the White House today received only this information from Presidential Secretary Charles G. Ross:

"If some order was in preparation it was cancelled in view of the President's attitude."

Asked whether some official "might be leaving OPA soon" as a result, Ross only smiled and said not that he knew of. Then, he reiterated that Mr. Truman has not approved any across-the-board rent hike.

This tied in with the report of the official who described the order as a mixup, he said:

"It seems to be quite definite there will be no across-the-board increase at this time."

The official, who would not permit use of his name, said the order went from Maj. Gen. Philip B. Fleming's Office of Temporary Controls to OPA during Fleming's absence from the city.

But just how it happened it "still something of a mystery," the official said.

He explained, however, that an order relaxing rent controls to benefit individual landlord "hardship" cases was being drawn and that the 10 per cent increase plan apparently got into the picture as a possible alternative.

TWO BOYS ADMIT DERAILING TRAIN

WALTON, Ind., Jan. 30.—Two boys, 10 and 11 years old, awaited possible federal prosecution today after Sheriff Harold Smith said they admitted in signed statements they put a roll of fence wire on the Pennsylvania railroad track here Monday. The roll derailed a passenger train and killed four persons.

Prosecutor Keith Campbell said he would confer with U. S. Attorney Alex Campbell to determine whether a federal charge would be filed. The sheriff said signed statements were made today by Jack Sprinkle, 10, and Lysle Graves, 11.

Forty-five persons were injured as the locomotive and five cars piled up.

The Republican Mandate

There have been attempts to interpret the Republican "mandate" ever since the votes were counted last November.

Most of them can be charged off to good intentions, with no damage done. But damage can be done if any considerable number of Republicans make as dismal a botch of mandate interpretation as the Democrats did after 1933.

Republican leaders in Congress now are beginning to understand that a mandate in the hands of politicians, like an elephant in the hands of the famous committee of blind men, can seem to be as many different things as there are personal opinions about it.

On the matter of labor law revision, for example, interpretations of the mandate range from proposals to destroy popular rights to get rid of scoundrels who have given some labor unions a black eye to proposals to do nothing, which is what the scoundrels hope will happen.

Some Republicans want to paw the ground, and some favor President Truman's notion of shelving the problem and letting Mr. Micawber take care of it. Also there are some Republicans, fortunately, who want to proceed methodically to recodify and review the whole body of labor legislation, for the purpose of eliminating confusion and inequities.

It may be questioned whether the Republicans actually received any mandate at all last November, other than a kind of open invitation to hang themselves in their own rope if they lacked the sense to feel sobered by their responsibility. The only thing resembling a mandate that came out of the election was the desire of a majority of voters for a change. The public was fed up. It used the two-party system to obtain an alternative to something that had become intolerable.

One of the annoyances which had contributed to desire for a change was rationing and the interference growing out of bureaucratic attempts to hang on to profit and controls after the end of the war. The public wanted relief and got it. Except for rents, profit and price control has been liquidated, and the Truman administration reluctantly has agreed to do something about rents.

People were fed up with continuation of the federal government's war-emergency attitude after the war was over. President Truman saw the handwriting on the wall after the November elections and began to shed his emergency powers before Congress had a chance to take them from him.

It is undeniable that the attitude and actions of some labor union executives and, in some cases, of the unions rank and file had annoyed the public. Resentment against union arrogance had much to do with the decision to punish so many of the politicians who had encouraged it with attitudes of toleration and encouragement. The people were weary of being informed by implication that labor could do no wrong. They knew better.

But to claim as some Republicans subsequently did claim, that the outcome of the election was a mandate to their party to do thus and so, naming chapter and verse of labor legislation, was nonsense. Worse than that, it is dangerous nonsense, because it invites the party to adopt a policy based on a false premise.

The Republican party's record on labor, now that it has returned to power, will be a key factor in politics in 1948 and for many years thereafter. Either the party will use its present opportunity to win the support of moderates at all levels of the labor minority while holding the support of moderates in other minorities, or it will be handicapped by a reputation for hostility to wage earners—its weakness when it was trying to recover its prestige after the debacle in 1932.

This does not mean there should be a Republican policy of appeasement. It means that as far as labor legislation is concerned the party should bear in mind that the change which the people voted for last November covered vastly more than revision of laws.

The people wanted a change in the atmosphere in which all laws had to be enforced; that change is beginning to occur, thanks to Republican influence and to Democratic recognition that New Deal vindictiveness and arbitrariness have gone out of style.

The people wanted a change in the doctrine that it was proper for special pleaders appointed to administrative posts to read into laws things that legislators hadn't put there. They wanted more fair play in public affairs and a speedy termination of an arrangement which gave minorities the privilege to dictate to the public under the claimed protection of the servants of all the people.

The atmosphere of law enforcement is changing. The special pleaders have been leaving Washington. Government by law is replacing government by men. The very fact the November election discredited labor bosses who had abused their power already has had a salutary effect; the bosses seem to have caught on rapidly. What seemed to call for blunderbusses last November now seems to call for squirrel rifles and precision shooting.

The Least Abhorrent Choice

Henry L. Stimson's hindsight thoughts on his wartime decisions about using the atomic bomb against Japan include no remorse. In the review of his part in national policy on atomic fission which the former secretary of war has written for Harper's, there is none of the apologetic attitude that came easy to many of his countrymen after Japan's surrender.

Mr. Stimson repeats that the surrender apparently was induced by the two bombs dropped on Japanese cities. They had tremendous psychological impact, even greater than their destructive effect, which was less than could have been caused by continuing the fire raids of the B-29 fleets. Confronted with the choice between atomic bombs and going on with the war at the cost of perhaps a million American lives, the policy-makers did not hesitate. They made the "least abhorrent choice." They used the first two atomic bombs—the only two atomic bombs in existence in the late summer of 1945.

"War in the 20th century," Mr. Stimson writes, "has grown steadily more barbarous, more destructive, more debased in all its aspects. Now, with the release of atomic energy, man's ability to destroy himself is very nearly complete. The bombs dropped on Hiroshima and Nagasaki ended a war. They also made it wholly clear that we must never have another war. In this last great action of the Second World War we were given final proof that war is death."

GUARDING YOUR HEALTH

Treatment of a Disorder Affecting Women

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN, M.D.

MANY women think that the function of the ovaries is confined to reproduction but this is not the case.

Along with the other glands of internal secretion, the ovaries play an important part in regulating the entire personality and all women are interested in that.

We know that when the ovaries do not furnish enough of their secretion, or when they are removed or during the change of life, there is a general disturbance which is felt in many different ways.

For example, nervous symptoms are likely to be prominent. Many such women feel jittery and nervous and they are excitable and easily irritated.

A number suffer from an extreme depression which deprives them of interest in their ordinary activities. They may suddenly break into tears for no apparent reason. Loss of memory and inability to concentrate are often present. Some experience a number of unpleasant sensations such as of insects crawling over the skin.

Women Are Restless

Most of the women are restless, sleep poorly and are quickly exhausted. In addition, as would be expected, this lack of ovarian secretion interferes with the monthly periods, which may be shortened or absent altogether. Or, in women approaching the change of life, the periods are sometimes prolonged.

One of the changes that disturb women after the age of 30, if there is a deficiency of ovarian secretion, is that fat accumulates in the body tissues, particularly over the hips and shoulders.

Headache is frequently present. The most common type is felt at the back of the head and passes downward to the nape of the neck. Indeed, according to Dr. August A. Werner of St. Louis, who has made a study of 200 women in this condition, such headaches almost always are a definite indication of a lack of ovarian secretion.

Another Symptom

Another common symptom is hot flushes in which there is sudden redness of the face, neck and upper part of the chest. The hot flush usually lasts only a short time but may be accompanied by dizziness, tingling or prickling sensations in the skin and, occasionally, by the hot flush alternating with a chilly sensation.

Still other symptoms which may be present are rapid beating of the heart, ringing in the ears, and cold hands and feet. Other symptoms include constipation, swelling of the abdomen and belching after meals.

Today, the doctor fortunately has the means of relieving this condition rather quickly in most cases. Once the diagnosis has been made the treatment consists in the rather simple procedure of giving the proper gland extract, such as estrogen.

Such treatment, together with the use of sedative or quieting drugs when necessary, often brings about great improvement in the symptoms.

Letters to Dr. Bundesen should be addressed in care of 235 E. 45th st., New York City.

President Truman to Make Flight to Mexican Capital

WASHINGTON, Jan. 30—President Truman early in March will make the first flight to Mexico City by a White House occupant for a three-day "good will" visit with President Miguel Aleman.

He will entertain Aleman a little later in a return visit to Washington by the head of the Latin American republic.

Diplomatic officials were quick to suggest that the two presidents would discuss among other things a U. S. loan to speed Mexican industrialization and road-building.

The flight will be Mr. Truman's third trip outside the United States since he became President on April 12, 1945. He went to Potsdam by cruiser and airplane for the Big Three meeting in July, 1945, and flew from there to England to see King George VI. Last August he vacationed in Bermuda waters.

Mrs. Brodie hits the roof!

No, no, this isn't a new Atom Bomb! It's merely Mrs. Brodie, after a quiet family conference with Mr. Brodie. Mr. B. made a few sharp remarks about their family budget.

Naturally, Mrs. Brodie hit the roof! And, like the cost of living, her temper kept right on going up and UP!

On the other hand, the cost of electricity, like Mr. Brodie's popularity at home, is going down and DOWN!

The Brodies (and you, too, if yours is an average family) get plenty of electricity for every budget dollar—more than twice as much as 20 years ago!

This domestic bargain took plenty of practical planning and technical skill on the part of your friends and neighbors in this company, under sound business management. You helped, too, by your increased use of electricity.

U.S. TO PULL OUT OF CHINA

Marshall Ends Mediation Attempts; American Soldiers to Leave

WASHINGTON, Jan. 30.—The United States has suddenly ended a year's effort to mediate between China's warring factions and announced that most of the remaining American troops and Army forces would be pulled out shortly.

Secretary of State Marshall's announcement was made simultaneously here and at Nanking.

It put squarely up to the Chinese themselves the task of working out their salvation and raised a big question mark over future United States policy toward China.

Both among diplomats here and at Nanking it was viewed as a like-signal for the start of the full-scale civil war long brewing between Chiang Kai-shek's Nationalist government and the Communists in North China.

Favored Liberals

Nevertheless some hope remained that the move would spur the Nationalists into giving their government a broad base of "liberal" elements as urged by Marshall upon his return this month to become secretary of state.

The assumption of leadership by the liberals in the government," Marshall said then, would be "the salvation of the situation."

The specific decisions announced by the State department in an early morning statement were:

1. Ending American connection with the committee of three set up under Marshall's chairmanship last February to try to end China's internal strife.

2. Ending this government's connection with the Peiping executive "trust" headquarters which supervised the execution of agreements to cease fighting and demobilize armed forces.

3. Withdrawal of American personnel connected with the headquarters as soon as possible.

4. The winding up of the mediation effort means the evacuation of more than 1,000 Army officers and men at the Peiping headquarters along with an estimated 8,000 Marines who have guarded and serviced the headquarters and its lines of communication.

Household Hints

A clothes-pin on the end of a curtain rod makes it easier to work the curtain over the rod.

If you do not have a piece of cheese for the mouse trap, try cotton. Mice gather it for their nests.

Make a festive sandwich spread out of peanut butter and chili sauce.

To prevent clothes from sticking to the line in cold weather, wipe the line with a cloth wrung out of vinegar.

Dry cleaning fluids are poisonous if swallowed; keep them away from children. If a person swallows some, call a doctor.

Children's shoes should not be resoled for further wear unless they are one-half inch longer and one-quarter inch wider than the child's feet.

Miraculous Birth

One of only 12 normal babies born following abdominal pregnancy, Linda Lou Purdom of Clearwater, Kan., is shown in the arms of her mother. There have been 238 instances of abdominal pregnancy reported but only 12 babies have survived without deformation.

Flashes Of Life

(By Associated Press)

PASADENA, Calif., Jan. 30.—Police pondered today the mystery of the disappearing accident victim.

An ambulance took aboard a man, believed a clergyman, struck down at an intersection. Enroute to a hospital, the driver stopped to aid victims of a second crash. Swinging open the door of his machine, he discovered the first patient had disappeared.

DENISON, Ia.—If "3's a crowd," Ray H. Thompson of Denison is a one-man mass meeting.

Thompson says "3" is his favorite number and he lists this evidence:

His telephone number is 333, his auto license is 333, his safe deposit box is 333 and his postoffice box is 333.

Thompson has three children, three grandchildren, and owns three farms in Crawford county.

And just to round things out, Thompson was the third man on a program of 3-minute talks at a church gathering the third Sunday of 1947.

BOSTON—Teeth chattering, Mrs. Caroline Glograne reported to East Boston police that an intruder was trying to get into her bedroom window. Patrolmen sped to her home, saw a figure in the back yard near the window, knocking loudly. They

They drew their guns and crept nearer.

The "prowler" turned out to be a suit of long underwear, frozen stiff on a clothesline and banging the house in the wintry wind.

Many Homes Need Repairs This Year

AP Newsfeatures

NEW YORK—Getting the nation's homes back into tip-top shape is going to be one of the biggest jobs for the construction industry.

Between $2,400,000,000 and $3,000,000,000 is expected to be spent on repairing single-family non-farm houses this year, according to the T. C. Council of America.

This bill will include roof repairs to more than 2,345,000 homes and the replacement or overhauling of heating equipment in some 2,037,000, the council estimates.

Still another 1,793,000 houses will have showers installed, bathrooms tiled or repairs made to water piping, according to the report.

Painting is by far the most common home repair, the study showed. Either the exterior or some room of the interior is painted in almost a third of the nation's single-family homes each year.

The number of single-family non-farm homes in the United States has risen from 17,510,847 in 1940 to an estimated 19,836,000 as of November, 1946, the T. C. Council states.

Tired Kidneys Often Bring Sleepless Nights

Doctors say your kidneys contain 18 miles of tiny tubes or filters which help purify the blood and keep you healthy. When they get tired and don't work right in the daytime, many people have to get up nights. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning sometimes show there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder. Don't neglect this condition and lose valuable, restful sleep. When disorder of kidney function permits poisonous matter to remain in your blood, it may also cause nagging backache, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, a stimulant diuretic, used successfully by millions for over 50 years. Doan's give happy relief and will help the 18 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

Busy Year Ahead For Ohio Bell Co.

In the number of telephones added, amount of new construction, expenditures for additions to plant and the volume of traffic handled, the Ohio Bell Telephone Co. has ended the busiest year in its history and the forecast for 1947 points to an equally busy year in the volume of business and demands for new service, according to Randolph Eide, company president.

Pointing out that the company experienced a net increase of 168,000 telephones in its territory throughout the state in 1946, Eide said that gross expenditures throughout the Eastern division to provide additional telephone facilities for the continuing demand for new service and to improve existing facilities will approximate nearly eight million dollars.

This is part of the company's $125,000,000 improvement program which started at the end of the war, with more than $40,000,000 of this to be spent throughout the state for gross additions in 1947, according to Eide.

District Improvements

Throughout the Youngstown district, which includes Salem, Niles, Girard, Hubbard and adjacent territory, 1947 gross expenditures will approximate $2,600,000. This includes $50,000 for new buildings or additions, $900,000 for manual and

ATOMIC BOILER, ORE FINDER TOLD IN PAPERS NOW OFF 'SECRET LIST'

BY HOWARD W. BLAKESLEE
Associated Press Science Reporter
NEW YORK, Jan. 30.—A new approach to prospecting for atomic bomb materials and an atomic boiler are among the secrets of 270 papers released by the new Atomic Energy commission and the Manhattan engineer district.
These papers are in the long-for-bidden list. Penalty for unauthorized publication is death, in extreme cases under the McMahon act, and 20 years imprisonment and a $100,000 fine in non-capital cases.
The released reports are mostly technical. They include some authorized and published by the Manhattan district before the stringent new law was passed last summer.
They can be bought from the commission in photostat or microfilm form, mostly for one or two dollars.
One paper on magnet curves is priced at $10.
The ore detector is reported by William P. Jesse. The abstract gives details, but its uses indicate that this detector picks up radiation that is beyond human sense or sight. It is useful also for protection of personnel and detection of neutrons.

Serves As Fuel
The atomic water boiler uses uranium or plutonium for fuel. This atomic teakettle has the design of two shells, one inside the other.
The inner contains water in which uranium or plutonium are dissolved.
As the atoms of these metals split the water gets hot, neutrons multiply and issue from the atoms.

Many of the neutrons escape from the water shell and would be useless. But the outer shell, a metal that can reflect neutrons, bounces them back into the water. Neutrons penetrate most metals easier than port is a theoretical discussion by R. E. Christy.

Uranium normally contains only seven-tenths of one percent of the 235 kind that splits to make bombs they can go through water. This reand heat for power. A paper by O. E.

Anderson and H. E. White tells of a concentration in which the uranium 235 was 64 percent.

High concentrations of the 235 would greatly reduce the size of the enormous ovens at present used to make the new metal plutonium.

J. W. Kennedy, one of the top-scientists of the atomic bomb, reports that plutonium splits better than uranium when subjected to the process that is expected to produce atomic power. This process is fission or atom splitting, caused by slow neutrons.

the arm and the Minnesotan jerked away.

"I wouldn't have hit him for anything," Engel said.

Knutson declined to comment.

One of those present was Rep. Hoffman (R-Mich.).

Hoffman told reporters that Knutson was sitting at a table when Engel came in.

"They got into a discussion on the merits of Knutson's bill," Hoffman related.

"The discussion got pretty hot. The rest of us were laughing, but they weren't."

Hoffman said he did not consider that a physical encounter was imminent and the two parted "when the rest of us laughed the thing off."

Earlier Engel said there were enough votes in the house to kill a Republican-backed bill to slash individual income taxes 20 percent across the board.

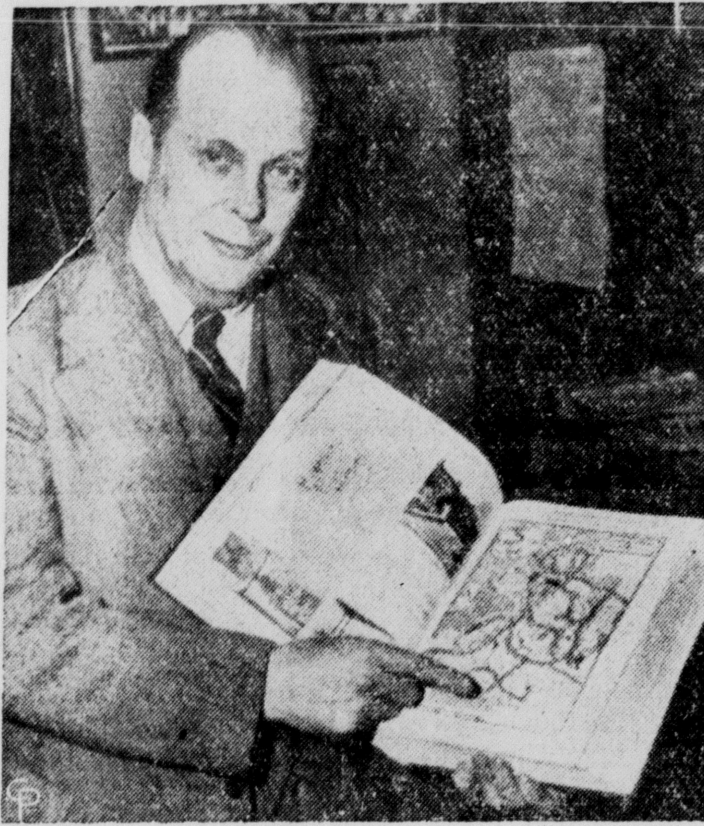

"It never will pass in its present form," Engel told reporters after the house tossed over to the senate another bill freezing excise levies on so-called luxury items at wartime rates.

Urged by President Truman and sponsored by Republicans, the excise measure passed the house yesterday 373 to 35.

Senator Brewster (R-Me.) said he expected this bill to pass the senate unchanged, although some senators indicated privately they intended to battle for somewhat lower levies on jewelry, furs, telephones and transportation.

The freeze legislation prevents an automatic rollback of the excise rates on July 1, which would cost the treasury $1,300,000,000 a year in revenue.

Employers Flayed By CIO In Portal Pay Suit Findings

(By Associated Press)

DETROIT, Jan. 30.—The CIO declared today the outpouring of portal pay suits for more than $4,000,000 resulted from a "colossal gamble" by employers to evade the Wage-Hour act.

Union attorneys contended in a brief filed with Federal Judge Frank A. Picard that employer liability for such pay had been spelled out time and again since 1939.

"Instead of complying with the act in accordance with those administrative rulings and judicial decisions," they said, "American employers in wholesale fashion gambled on evading the act, hoping to escape the consequences."

CIO Suits Predominate

Most of the portal pay suits have been filed by CIO member unions.

Attorneys for labor, industry and the government were to argue before Judge Picard in a hearing expected to wind up today.

A Supreme court decision upholding Judge Picard's findings in a case involving the Mt. Clemens (Mich.) Pottery Co. opened the flood gates for the similar litigation which followed on a vast scale. The pottery firm itself has only 1,200 employees.

Judge Picard held that the workers were entitled to back pay for non-productive time necessarily spent on company premises. The Supreme court, agreeing, directed him to determine how much the pottery employs should receive.

The CIO brief was filed in connection with Judge Picard's hearing today of views from labor, industry and the government on what the damages ought to be.

"There have been hysterical outcries that unless this case is decided adversely to the workers the very pillars of the republic will fall," the brief said.

The brief declared employers involved "have sought to create an atmosphere in which their own wrongdoing will be obscured and their irresponsibility overlooked."

The CIO attorneys said an interpretive bulletin from the administrator of the Wage-Hour act in July, 1939, laid down the general rule that "hours worked" would include "all time during which an employee is required to be on duty or to be on the employer's premises."

They cited a long series of subsequent opinions by the administrator and findings by courts to support this definition.

The CIO took direct issue with a Justice department brief already before Judge Picard which argued in favor of applying the "de minimus doctrine" to the time involved. "De minimus" is the doctrine that the law does not concern itself with trifles.

Kennel Club Dogs Win In Warren Puppy Match

Dogs belonging to four members of the Columbiana county Kennel club took places in the puppy match in Warren Sunday. It was announced at a dinner meeting of the group in the Memorial building Wednesday night.

Those whose dogs placed in the match are as follows:

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Middleton's Doberman Pinscher, Eric of Stark, first place in the working group and best of breed.

L. E. Schindler's Boxer, Kurt of Vorsehigh, second place in working group and best of breed.

Mrs. Alberta Angle's Dandie Dinmont Terrier, Saunders' Pepper Merry Maker, best of breed and fourth in terrier group.

Mr. and Mrs. O. C. Gottschall of Salem entered two pugs, Winna Maharajah and Winna Annabelle. The former won in the male division, while the latter dog topped the bitch and best of breed divisions.

L. W. Boring of Lisbon, state game warden, was guest speaker at the dinner meeting. He discussed wildlife and compared it to domesticated pets.

President Aubrey Clay announced that the club has applied to the American Kennel club for license for the club's dog show, to be held next August.

state supreme court. He was not available for comment yesterday.

Jenkins said he might seek revocation by Monday of some late-issued permits. At least 50 new permits issued between Jan. 1 and 13 as well as 49 private clubs licensed in December were being checked, the attorney general said.

His investigation so far has embraced Cleveland, Canton, Youngstown, Akron, Warren and Lorain. Introduction of the investigation resolution apparently caught senate Democrats, other than Miss Mahoney, with their guard down.

It was prepared by the rules committee, of which Miss Mahoney is a member, during an hour-long recess of the upper chamber's afternoon session.

Denounced As "Smear"

When Whittemore, rules committee chairman, popped it before the senate, Sen. Howard Metzbaum (D-Cleveland) bounced to his feet with a demand for time to read the proposal.

Sen. Clingan Jackson and Nicholas P. Bernard, both Youngstown Democrats, denounced it as a "smear" and voted against adoption. Miss Mahoney and Metzbaum voted for it.

Whittemore told the senate the resolution had nothing.

"This is no smear campaign or reflection on the attorney general or the liquor director," he stated. "In all fairness to the previous governor and the department, this investigation should be made."

Whittemore added that the rules committee drafted the resolution because it did not want to disturb a separate bill proposing an investigation to determine whether the state's $13,000,000 liquor monopoly business should be turned over to private enterprise to run.

He referred to a bill by Senator Hildebrand, chairman of the senate liquor control committee, now pending in rules committee.

Leaders in the house of representatives said they favored the investigation.

Boyle's COLUMN

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK—America is on the move. Very few guys die with their boots on now in the same county where they were born. So it pays to know how to spread around. That's the way the country has always been since Patrick Henry said "Give me liberty or give me elbow room." The slogan that caught the most eyes was "Move on." But you've got to do more than move along. You've got to belong. Otherwise you never stop moving. There probably are more people moving in the states now than at any time since Virginia and Massachusetts took up housekeeping. But moving and getting along are two different things. Covered wagons don't impress the Indians in California any more, not even those who draw their paychecks from the horse operas. Your gift to wherever you go isn't anything else but you. Nowadays there is no frontier to move to—not in the physical sense. But the best tradition of the world's best melting pot goes on, regardless of class or creed. The sons and grandsons of the men who heeded Horace Greeley's "Go west, young man," now turn east and show the New Yorkers how to run their own stock market. The second World war only accented the urge to keep on the go. With the growth of faster means of travel America shrinks like boiled wool underpants in a July sun. People don't gauge you so much by who your granddaddy "fit with" as by who you are. Today—if a stranger wants to make his place—he can cast anchor wherever he thinks it will profit him. Old prejudices are dying. Opportunity is everywhere. Years of travel have convinced me that America's greatest natural resource is its reservoir of good will, the basic desire of one man to help another, friend or newcomer. The stigma of the stranger is ending. I would like to say that this good will is basically an American trait, but the truth is that it is a characteristic of mankind. We are all it is all up to the individual traveler next guy get along—if not as well as ourselves, then almost as well. And we are also built so that we want to help the outlander—if he is humble enough to ask our advice. So are every other people I met in travels through 50 countries. It is all up to the individual traveler. Hospitality is no monopoly of any one financial class or color. Good manners are the same everywhere, whether you are offered barbecued lamb's eyes, a delicacy in the Middle East, or good Greek. Godham's delight. The host still wants you to have a good time on the best he can provide.

When you come to a strange city or country, the worst thing you can be is lonely, self-centered or aloof.

This is cowardice and easy. It makes it pleasant to be sorry for yourself—and that is the greatest danger anyone can indulge in, a dissipation more perilous than wine or opium. The thing to do when you come to a strange city or country is to avoid its meaningless pitfalls. Look up the people who have the same hobbies or religious faith you have, or who belong to the same lodge.

If you can't find them, then introduce yourself to the other folk you encounter. But never change your feathers just to please them. The thing most people are most homesick for is to talk to interesting people they don't know. Stay yourself. They'll like you for that alone.

The world is broader-minded than you are. The one crime is to go somewhere and be alone.

East Liverpool Will Try To End Salem's Perfect Record As Quakers Did For Them

Locals Face Determined Opponent In County Title Contest There Friday Night

Salem ended East Liverpool's undefeated ranking at eight straight on Jan. 10 at the Salem High gym and East Liverpool's Pottery, beaten twice in 13 games, definitely intend to end Salem's victory string at the Potter's Memorial gymnasium come Friday night.

A more definite determination, you have never seen. Despite the fact that the East Liverpool fans, coaches and students are currently spreading the reports that stars Wayne Ashbaugh and Jim Cunningham are ill with intestinal influenza, East Liverpool is set and ready for the visit of Coach Bob Miller and his Salem Quakers Friday night.

The gymnasium is sold out, there can be no question of that. Anyone who ventures down East Liverpool way without a ticket for the game Friday night is factually wasting his time, for there are not tickets available and there will be no sale at the gym at game time or any hours before.

Coach Merrill Hall, Potter coach since Don Ogden left last year, intends to use Denzell Miller, Jack Betts and possibly Dave Kinsey as substitutes for Cunningham and Ashbaugh if they are not available for the start Friday night.

"If you don't have a ticket for the Salem-East Liverpool game Friday night, don't make the trip to East Liverpool, for no one will be sold tickets before game-time," Principal Betts of the Potter's City High school announced emphatically today. Betts said there were absolutely no tickets left in East Liverpool and reiterated that it would be useless for anyone to make an attempt to get in unless he already has a ticket.

Tickets will be collected at the outside doors to the gym, rather than at the inside entrances to the gym, Betts said. No sale will be held even of general admission tickets, before the reserve game.

However, it is highly probable and more than possible that the Liverpool starting five will include Ashbaugh at center, Cunningham and Jerry Hyder at forwards and Allen Bailey and Don Jackson at the guards on Friday.

There can be little question about the fact that East Liverpool has been pointing to a victory over Salem ever since the Quakers laced the Pottery 37-28 here on Jan. 10.

With Salem boasting a 10-0 record, East Liverpool will enter the game with two losses and 11 victories.

It can't be questioned that the Pottery are by far the outstanding outfit for tournament honors in the river-valley sector of Ohio.

East Liverpool has lost to Salem and to Bridgeport, 45-44, in 13 tries. Besides that, Potter victories came over: Toronto twice (55-34 and 56-40); Midland, Pa. (45-23); Alliance (43-42); Martins Ferry (60-35); Weirton, W. Va. (39-38); Belaire (64-38); Steubenville Catholic (86-40); Massillon (50-38); Steubenville Big Red (57-44) and New Philadelphia (56-46).

Coach Miller will start, as usual, Jimmy Laughlin and Capt. Tony Martelli at guards, Bob Pager at Several women's bowling teams from Salem engaged in the Cincinnati Times-Star handicap bowling tournament in the Queen City last weekend. Included in the group, which made the trip together, were teams from the Recreation, Salem News, Salem Concrete and Hutter's.

The News five, composed of Vannie, Hull, Sommers, Pauline and Kline, rolled at three game series of 2784, including handicap. The doubles team of Pauline and Kline were tops with 1164, while Vannie's singles mark of 538 was the best from the local group.

The Recreation five recorded a mark of 2768 in the tournament. The team was made up of DeJane, Briggs, Caldwell, Slagle and Ramsey. Slagle and Ramsey paced the doubles with 1048, while Slagle led the singles group with 562.

center, and Virgil Kelly and Francis Lannay at forwards.

Miller, because of the comparatively bad showing of the Quakers against Alliance here Tuesday, is expecting a good show at Liverpool.

Quaker Frosh Win At East Liverpool

In a return game with the East Liverpool Freshman team Wednesday night, Frank Tarr's plebe squad gained an even split of the week's play by defeating the Potter club 18-12 in Memorial gym.

Both clubs scored three field goals, but the Salemites caged 11 fouls, while their opponents could only net five.

Elijah Alexander sparked the Quakers with eight points.

YOUNGSTOWN FIVE EDGES B-W AFTER TRAILING ALL WAY

Mahoning County School Wins 59-55; Toledo Holds High Scoring Pace

Ohio's collegiate basketball teams played a light schedule Wednesday night with Youngstown upsetting Baldwin-Wallace 59 to 55 and Toledo bettering 60 points for the sixth time this season in beating South Dakota Wesleyan 66 to 42.

In the only other contests Ohio Wesleyan thumped Oberlin 93 to 52 at Delaware for its seventh straight victory, and Cedarville lost at Detroit Tech 53 to 51.

Led Most Of Way Baldwin-Wallace, current leader in the Ohio conference, held a slim lead through most of its non-conference game with Youngstown, but dropped behind 41-40 early in the final quarter and never regained the advantage. Chuck Bush, Youngstown forward, led individual scoring with 15 points.

Toledo used its second team much of the time in posting its ninth victory in 14 games against a South Dakota quintet which had won 11 of 14 previous starts.

Oberlin was off its usual form against Wesleyan and trailed 40 to 20 at halftime, never getting into the running. Two guards—Chuck Buttermore of Wesleyan and Jack Frost of Oberlin—tied for scoring honors with 16 points each.

A field goal in the last 30 seconds beat Cedarville at Detroit. The home team staged a second half rally in which it made 17 points to Cedarville's one to erase a 10-point halftime deficit and take the lead.

Legion Beaten By Toronto Five 48-38

The Salem American Legion road club took too long to pick up steam Wednesday night and lost a decision to the Toronto Legion 48-38 in a non-league game played at Toronto.

Kenny Shears collected nine points to lead Salem. Les Knepp notched seven and Chet Kridler two.

THREE GAMES IN CLASS A STARTS ROUND ACTIVITY

Class A basketball teams completed the first turn of the second round in the city cage race Wednesday night, at the Memorial building, with victories awarded to Demings, who defeated the Electric Furnace 34-30, to United Tool & Die, who drubbed Ellsworth 41-17 and to the Moose, who romped over Town Talk 42-15.

Don Rice, Steve Cibula and Wayne Hahn paced Demings to their victory by each caging eight tallies. Bob Buchanan notched eight for the Furnace.

Ed Zilavy tossed in 12 points for the evening's high individual total to lead United to victory. Howard Young was tops for Ellsworth with 11.

Walt Brian and Phil Cozad led the way for the Moose by tallying 10 and 11 points respectively, while Dick Miner meshed eight. Baird was Town Talk's best with six.

All the league teams will swing back into action tonight in the Memorial building.

Second Guessing

By DON E. BEATTIE
News Sports Editor

YOUR SALEM NEWS sports reporter took a trip to East Liverpool Wednesday afternoon, and if you will accept good advice, you won't attempt to make the trip to Pottertown Friday night unless you have safely in hand, a ticket admitting you to Memorial hall to see the basketball game!

We transfer that information on the best of authority! Principal Betts of East Liverpool High school told us that absolutely no one would get inside the door of the Memorial hall gymnasium unless he had in his possession a ticket for the fray.

EAST LIVERPOOL OFFICIALS, like Freddy Cope here, for the past few games, have been literally swamped with ticket orders, and there are just none left for the Salem game.

Tuesday afternoon, slightly before the usual sale time of 2:30, Potter officials were forced to call out the East Liverpool police to break up a waiting crowd of about 70 people in the Bryan Clothing store there for reserved seat tickets.

The sale, because of the trouble the people caused—and there were Salem fans among them—was postponed until 7:30 p. m. at Memorial hall Wednesday night.

Then four policemen were required to handle an unprecedented demand for 200 tickets placed on sale. And those tickets were the last, located in the upper stands, near the ceiling in the Potter gym.

PRINCIPAL BETTS, and it seems entirely to his credit, is determined that the gym Friday will not be overcrowded. He is determined that fire exits and regular aisles will be open for all necessary convenience.

He refuses to block the place in any way, despite the completely unheard of demand for tickets from local people.

Betts has been approached with the idea of filling the one end of the gymnasium with temporary bleachers. The idea, though fan-accommodating, is not geared to the best of fire prevention tactics and, consequently, he has rejected it.

Betts feels that every fan who gains a ticket for the event should be entitled to a place to sit comfortably, and that is a viewpoint seldom upheld when more tickets can be sold.

Don't go to East Liverpool Friday night if you haven't already secured a ticket. There positively will be no tickets available at the gate—no matter what you have heard differently.

Principal Betts requested that it be announced that no one will be admitted to the game unless he has his ticket before he gets there.

From where I sit... by Joe Marsh

Sam Hackney Reports on the U.S.A.

Sam Hackney and the missus just returned from a trailer trip around the country. They're tired, and glad to be home, but might be impressed with what they saw.

As Sam reports—every section has something different; a different way of talking; different tastes in food and drink; different laws and customs. But bigger than all these differences is the American spirit of tolerance that lets us live together in united peace.

"Of course," says Sam, "you run into intolerance from time to time. Individuals who criticize another's right to speak his mind; enjoy a glass of beer; or work at any trade he chooses. But those are the exceptions—and we're even tolerant of them!"

From where I sit, more of us ought to make a trip like the Hackneys—to realize firsthand how America is bigger than its many differences... how tolerance of those differences is the very thing that makes us strong.

The Nation Today

By JAMES MARLOW
WASHINGTON—Delays up to ten years before they can hope to obtain passport visas from overworked American consulate staffs.

State department officials made the estimate today. It was prompted by an Athens report that 100 candidates had registered there for every place on Greece's quota for next year.

Aside from the would-be immigrants, possibly 30,000 war-stranded American citizens remain overseas. Of these a large proportion will have to wait two years or more, by official estimates, for screening, renewal of passports and transportation.

Several thousand of the stranded Americans have gone abroad since V-E day and run into long delays in obtaining accommodations to return.

This government controls space on only six ships, and regulates this carefully.

Congress soon will consider a request for funds to expand consulate staffs from about 11,000 to 14,000 workers. But officials expect that at best the postwar log-jam of applications will require years to break.

In Greece some 30,000 persons have asked visas, although the annual immigration quota for that country is only 307. From Italy has come an estimate that if the bars were let down 14,000,000 Italians would seek to emigrate to the United States.

In Budapest, police were called out to curb a queue of some 2,500 line up at the American consulate.

In Rome an individual who claims American citizenship is told to "come back in a year," and in Warsaw the estimate is 15 months. The congestion is similar in Yugoslavia, Czechoslovakia, and, to a lesser degree, Norway.

Combined with clerical and other difficulties, the shipping bottlenecks also has been a factor in narrowing the flow of immigrants since V-E day.

The combined annual quotas for all countries is 153,879 but only about 40,000 were admitted during the first postwar fiscal year and some 85,000 are expected in the 12 months ending next June 30.

By the 1924 immigration act, first preference to one-half of any quota goes to husbands and parents of U. S. citizens. Second preference goes to alien wives and alien minor unmarried children of lawful residents of this country.

These applications originate largely in this country, whereas the bids of those who can not claim preference are filed abroad. The flood of these has been so heavy that some consulates have refused to accept more for the time being.

For these reasons officials say waiting lists are impossible to compute and are misleading.
